Privacy Policy

Staging review draft. The effective date will be set when this revision is published.

The WebStudy Foundation (“WSF”) respects your privacy. This policy explains what our website, webstudyfoundation.org, collects and how we use it.

What Personally Identifiable Information is Collected

When you join our Community of Practice list, book a discovery call, request a donation acknowledgment, or contact us, you give us information such as your name and email. We may use this information for specific, limited purposes. You may always "opt out," either now or at any time in the future, if you do not wish to receive our messages.

IP addresses

The WebStudy Foundation uses your IP address to help diagnose problems with our server, to administer webstudyfoundation.org, and for statistical metrics used to track website visitor traffic.

Cookies

webstudyfoundation.org uses "cookie" messages to automatically help provide better services. They remind us who you are and your preferences for our website based on what you've done and told us before. The "cookie" is placed in your computer and is read when you come back to our website. Cookies let us take you to the information and features you're particularly interested in. They also let us track your usage of webstudyfoundation.org, so we know which parts of our sites are most popular. You can reject cookies or cancel them by instructing your Web browser accordingly.

How Your Information May Be Used

We use your personal information to provide you with personalized service; to send e-mail alerts to you; to answer your requests, etc. You may choose to opt out at any time, which will cease all communications from us. We may also use your information to track visitors to our website. This lets us see which of our features are the most popular so we can better serve our users' needs. It also lets us provide aggregate data about our traffic (not identifying you personally, but showing how many visitors used which features, for example) to outside parties.

Third-Party Services

We use Google Analytics to understand site use. Donations are processed by Zeffy, and calls are scheduled through Calendly. We use HubSpot to manage contact information and communications with our supporters and other contacts. These providers process information in connection with their services; each has its own privacy policy.

Email Privacy

The WebStudy Foundation does not sell or rent email addresses. We use service providers, including HubSpot, to manage contact information and support our communications.
